Benton County Community Corrections Overview

Benton County Community Corrections (BCCC) supervises approximately 450 adult offenders on probation, parole and post-prison supervision each month. BCCC utilizes evidence-based principles (EBP) and collaborates with community partners to focus resources and supervision strategies on the highest risk offenders who present the greatest risk to the community.

BCCC conducts evidence-based cognitive behavioral programs that are facilitated by specially trained Parole and Probation Officers. One of the purposes of evidence based programming is to prepare offender's to be treatment-ready prior to being referred to substance abuse treatment. Other purposes of the evidence-based programming is to assist offenders through stages of change, build cognitive skills, address related behaviors, and prepare the offender for a pro-social change. The programming is highly interactive and engages participants in curriculum that assists them in examining their thoughts, behavior and core values. In April 2016, our Thinking for a Change and Motivation Enhancement Training programs received a Correctional Program Checklist (CPC) assessment. One of the many advantages to the CPC process is to provide the programs with feedback regarding what it is doing that is consistent with the research on effective interventions. It also allows for comparisons with other programs that have been assessed using the same criteria. Researchers from the University of Cincinnati have assessed over 550 programs nationwide and consistent with other research, approximately 7 percent of the programs assessed have been classified as Highly Satisfactory. The results of the CPC for BCCC was an overall capacity score of 78 percent, which falls into the "Very High Adherence" category. The CPC results were a strong validation of the outstanding work that our staff has done to adhere to evidence based practices and implement evidence based programming.

BCCC also continues to partner with the Benton County Drug Treatment Court program as a member of the Drug Treatment Court Staffing Team. Drug Treatment Court is designed to guide offenders identified as drug-addicted into treatment that will reduce drug dependence and improve the quality of life for the offenders, their families, and the community.

Our Community Corrections Office also continues to operate the Transition Program, which is designed to enhance public safety through effective transitioning of offenders from state and local custody to the community. Our Transition Team is responsible for identifying all persons incarcerated in Oregon Department of Corrections institutions, including structured transitional leave programs, who are scheduled to be released to Benton County on parole or post-prison supervision. The Transition Team facilitates a reach-in process that consists of targeted client interaction to prepare releasing inmates from state prisons for long term and productive life change in the community. One of the purposes is to engage offenders prior to release and provide them with realistic information pertaining to the various facets of re-entry into the community. Participants in the reach-in process are educated on evidence based principles related to risk assessments, available services and other community resources.

Despite the uncertainty of the State's Community Corrections funding, BCCC will continue to prioritize funding, jail beds, and rehabilitative services to those offenders who pose the greatest risk to the community.

Accomplishments from the 2015~2017 Biennium

- Justice Reinvestment Grant Programs: enhanced services for our Transition Program, our Evidence Based Programming, and the Benton County Drug Treatment Court.
- Hired a new Parole and Probation Officer and new Support Staff person.
- Implemented the evidence-based strategy of Carey Guides as a caseload management tool.
- Continued to contract with a private substance abuse treatment provider for the Parole and Probation Program.
- Continued to conduct in-house evidence based programming facilitated by a specially trained Parole and Probation Officer.
- Completed a Correctional Program Checklist of evidence-based programming in April 2016 and received an overall score that falls into the category of 'Very High Adherence.' This was a validation of the outstanding work that our P&P Staff has been doing to adhere to evidence based practices and implement evidence-based programming.
- Advanced Community Corrections Academy: 6 Parole and Probation Officers attended the ACCA at the Department of Public Safety Standards and Training.
- Volunteering in our community: Parole and Probation Staff volunteered approximately 1200 hours.
- Rotary Christmas Tree Giving Project: Continued to partner with Corvallis Morning Rotary to help provide Christmas gifts for children of corrections clients. In 2015, there were 50 kids and in 2016, there were 75 kids served in our community.

Future Plans heading into the 2017~2019 Biennium

- Continue improvement in implementation of Evidence-Based Programming.
  - Continue to work with community partners involved with BCCC and BCSO.
  - Positive movement in statewide performance measures: recidivism, employment, treatment.
  - Work with legislative leaders and criminal justice partners to explore incentive options and solutions to sustainable baseline funding for Community Corrections.

Program Name:	Supervision
Program Category:	Supervision
Program Description:	Community Supervision This program provides supervision to parole, post-prison, transitional leave, probation and conditional discharge offenders residing in Benton County. Supervision includes, but is not limited to, assessment of offender risk, referrals to treatment and cognitive programming, office contacts, residence checks, GPS monitoring, monitoring and collection of court-ordered financial obligations, imposition of structured sanctions, monitoring for substance abuse, and the coordination and supervision of volunteers. Work Crew / Community Service This program provides the placement and monitoring of offenders ordered to perform work crew or community service as a condition of supervision. This program also provides alternative sanctions for offenders who violate the conditions of supervision. Work crew is imposed as a structured intermediate sanction in lieu of jail; offenders who fail to perform work crew are required to serve the days in jail. The work crew program operates through a partnership with the Benton County Natural Areas and Parks Department. Community Corrections provides the administrative oversight while the Natural Area and Parks Department provides the crew supervision. Transition Services / County and DOC Pre-Release Planning The Transition Program is designed to enhance public safety through effective transitioning of offenders from state and local custody to the community. The Transition Officer is responsible for identifying all persons incarcerated in Oregon Department of Corrections institutions who are scheduled to be released to Benton County on parole or post-prison supervision. The Transition Officer conducts reach-ins at approximately 180 days prior to an offender's release. The reach-in process consists of targeted client interaction to prepare releasing inmates from state prisons for long term and productive life change in the community. The purpose is to engage offenders prior to release and provide them with realistic information pertaining to the various facets of re-entry into the community. Participants in the reach-in process are educated on evidence based principles related to risk assessments, available services and other community resources. The Transition Officer is also responsible for establishing release plans for all Senate Bill 1145 (Local Control) offenders incarcerated in the Benton County Jail. The Transition Program also assures that all statutory notifications are met, such as notifications to the Sheriff, District Attorney, Courts and victims. Benton County Drug Treatment Court The Drug Treatment Court (DTC) provides offenders accused of probation or conditional discharge violations an opportunity to address serious substance abuse issues in an intensely supervised environment. The DTC Program diverts eligible probationers who would otherwise be facing jail or DOC prison sentences and utilizes community resources to address their chronic substance abuse and other related issues. All DTC participants under supervision in Benton County are assigned to a specialized Drug Treatment Court caseload. The supervising officer provides input at weekly DTC staff meetings, attends DTC trainings and planning sessions, and attends weekly DTC court appearances. The Drug Treatment Court Program is a collaborative effort with the Benton County Circuit Court, Benton County District Attorney's Office, Benton County Legal Defense Consortium, Milestones Family Recovery Program, Benton County Sheriff's Office, Corvallis Police Department, and Benton County Community Corrections. Additional operational and treatment funds have historically been obtained through grants. Sex Offender Services / Sex Offender Supervision This program enhances community safety through the effective management of sex offenders. A Parole and Probation Officer with specialized sex offender training is assigned to supervise known sex offenders under supervision in Benton County. The sex offender supervision specialist is responsible for the assessment of all sex offenders using the Static-99R and the Stable/Acute Risk Assessments.

	Supervision includes referrals to treatment, participating in treatment programming, monitoring treatment progress, collecting DNA samples, coordinating the local Sex Offender Notification Committee, managing the Benton County Sex Offender Notification Web Page, scheduling polygraph examinations, conducting home and office contacts, and other duties related to caseload management. The sex offender specialist is also responsible for community notification, residency restrictions, and other legislative requirements. The sex offender supervision officer represents Benton County Community Corrections at the statewide Sex Offender Supervision Network meetings. Sex offenders who have successfully completed treatment, passed a full disclosure polygraph and have had no known significant violations may be eligible to be supervised on the low level supervision caseload; sex offenders are not eligible for limited level supervision.
Program Objectives:	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Serve the community by enhancing public safety through the reformation of offenders and the reduction of criminal behavior.</li> <li>2. Identify offender risk in order to prioritize available resources and sanctions.</li> <li>3. Utilize evidence-based programs, community referrals, and community partnerships.</li> </ol>

Program Name:	Sex Offender Services
Program Category:	Sex Offender Services
Program Description:	Sex Offender Services / Treatment This program provides contracted sex offender treatment services for indigent offenders. All sex offender treatment groups are cognitive-based programs designed to address thinking errors and thereby change behavior. Offenders may be required to pay a portion of treatment services based on a sliding fee scale; no offender is refused services due to inability to pay. Sex offender treatment services include individual assessment and evaluation, a long-term sex offender treatment group, a shorter-term treatment and intervention group for non-paraphilic offenders, individual counseling, and an aftercare group. Sex offenders attend weekly or bi-weekly meetings. The length of time in treatment can range from 9 months to years depending on the offender's risk to the community, and their compliance with treatment and other conditions of supervision. Sex Offender Services / Polygraph Examinations Polygraph examinations are conducted by a contracted polygraph examiner, specially trained and certified to perform this task. Polygraphs are used as a means of supervising sex offenders to deter illegal acts, provide early detection of prohibited conduct, and as a tool in sex offender treatment programming. Sex offenders are required to pass a full sexual history disclosure polygraph in order to successfully complete sex offender treatment. Polygraphs are also given every six months for maintenance compliance for sex offenders engaged in treatment and yearly for sex offenders who have completed treatment. Specific incident polygraphs are also given when there is suspected prohibited activity. Polygraph examinations may also be used as a supervision tool for individuals convicted of other offenses within the capacity limits of the program. All indigent sex offenders are referred to contracted polygraph examiner; offenders who have the ability to pay may be referred to a private polygraph examiner.
Program Objectives:	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. All sex offenders will be evaluated by an approved treatment provider and referred to treatment as recommended by the evaluator.</li> <li>2. Sex offenders will submit to polygraph examination in conjunction with sex offender treatment.</li> <li>3. Diminish offenders' anti-social attitudes and beliefs. Utilize cognitive behavioral interventions to address offender risk factors.</li> <li>4. 95% of eligible sex offenders will undergo a polygraph examination every 6 months.</li> <li>5. 95% of eligible sex offenders involved in the Benton County Sex Offender Treatment Group will undergo a full sexual history disclosure polygraph.</li> <li>6. 95% of all sex offenders involved in the Benton County Sex Offender Treatment Group will pass a full sexual history disclosure polygraph before successfully completing treatment.</li> <li>7. 95% of eligible sex offenders who have completed treatment will submit to yearly maintenance polygraph exams.</li> </ol>

Program Name:	Subsidy/Transition Services
Program Category:	Subsidy
Program Description:	Subsidy / Transition Services This program provides indigent offenders with short-term financial assistance to ensure a smooth transition from custody to the community. This program may provide financial assistance to indigent offenders in need of transitional housing, food, work-related clothing, haircuts, medication, transportation, and crisis intervention. Additionally, the program provides financial assistance to facilitate the placement of certain indigent offenders into residential substance abuse treatment programs. Each case is screened to determine if they pose a substantial risk to public safety. Other non-transitional offender's may be subsidized, who have a significant housing need and have demonstrated motivation and compliance.
Program Objectives:	1. Placement of transitional offenders in stable and appropriate housing; increase supervision compliance; increase ability to locate offenders; increase public safety; reduce recidivism.  2. All other related requests for subsidy, including re-entry subsidy requests, will be evaluated and reasonable requests forwarded to the Director for final consideration.

Program Description:	Evidence Based Programming  Evidence-based cognitive behavioral programs are facilitated by specially trained Parole & Probation Officers. The purpose of evidence-based programming is intended to assist offenders through stages of change, building cognitive skills, address related behaviors, and prepare the offender for a pro-social change. The programming is highly interactive and engages participants in curriculum that assists them in examining their thoughts, behavior and core values. These programs are available to all supervised offenders. Evidence-based cognitive behavioral programs will also include Thinking for a Change and Motivational Enhancement Therapy. Programs are offered several times throughout the year. Offenders may be referred to cognitive restructuring programs by the sentencing authority, the supervising officer, or by self-referral.
Program Objectives:	1. The program objective is to break down resistance to change, increase pro-social decisions and behaviors, and to move toward readiness to complete any required treatment programming.

Program Name:	Transition Center
Program Category:	Transition Services
Program Description:	Transition Center The Transition Center is a highly structured, safe, clean and sober living environment designed to house up to six indigent offenders at any given time. The Transition Center is comprised of two apartments and is monitored by a Parole and Probation Officer as well as part-time Case Monitors. The Transition Center is staffed nights and weekends, including holidays. Transition Center residents are required to submit to frequent drug and alcohol testing, daily residence/property searches, mandatory curfew, household cleaning responsibilities, and weekly community service assignments in lieu of rent. Residents must be involved in any recommended programming including substance abuse treatment, sex offender treatment, job search, and cognitive programming. Offenders may remain at the Transition Center approximately 90 days providing they are working toward self-sufficiency and in compliance with the program.
Program Objectives:	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Provide transitional housing and intensive programming to offenders.</li> <li>2. Evaluate offenders pending release from DOC or Local Control incarceration for placement at the Transition Center. Alternative subsidy funding may be considered only if it is determined the offender is not eligible for the Transition Center or a bed is not available.</li> <li>3. Residents will perform a minimum of 2,000 hours of community service biennially.</li> </ol>
